Dissertation Writing Groups: Best Practices

Have you been thinking about starting, finding, or improving a dissertation writing group? Join us to learn about best practices for large writing projects, including considerations for organizing a successful writing group. Dissertation/thesis writers from any discipline are welcome. The information session will include time for you to meet other dissertation writers interested in forming a group. Throughout the semester, we will check in with your group and provide facilitation assistance as needed.

January 29, 2–3:30 pm, 1022 Lincoln Hall
February 2, 5:30-7:00pm, 1051 Lincoln Hall

Sponsored by the Writers Workshop
Providing support to all U of I writers at any stage of the writing process.

Find more information at www.cws.illinois.edu/workshop/